Dear Dr. Henney,

I am writing to express my concern about GMO's in our food supply. From the literature I have read, I have gathered that this cannot be considered a healthy choice for myself, my family or especially my grandchildren; who might not have the benefit of ever enjoying "normal" food. Please weigh all the facts carefully before lending your support to a project such as this. I truly am scared that a group of people are able to get away with such dangerous practices.

Sincerely,

Mary D. Lee
